

Call
181
Freephone number
Domestic and Family Violence
Hotline

606181
WhatsApp

A life without violence

Govern d'Andorra

The Domestic and Family Violence Service (SAVVDF in Catalan) is an interdisciplinary team of professionals with the purpose of offering a specialized resource to deal with all acts of violence (physical, sexual, psychological or economic) that take place within the family, at home, or with former partners regardless of having shared a house with the victim.

Domestic or family violence issues involve people with a disability that are abused by a family member or a care-taker, violence between siblings, violence between couples without a gender violence component, parental abuse by children, violence within LGTBIQ+ couples and men abused by their partner.

We offer comprehensive care in the following areas:

- Social
- Educational
- Psychological
- Legal
- Employment services
- Housing assistance

• Business hours

Monday to Thursday from 8 am to 5:00 pm
Fridays from 8 am to 3:00 pm

• Hotline

181 (freephone number)

You may speak with a member of our team during business hours, however we are available 24/7 to receive information and offer assistance in regards to any type of violence.

For emergencies
contact the police 110

• Who is this for?

This resource is for anybody experiencing or has been impacted by domestic or family violence during their lifetime.

To have access to our services you are not required to file a police report. You are also not required to stop living with the person causing the violence.